the Gerontology Department Chair.

Enrolment in most courses will be limited. The following is an outline of the program curriculum.

1.	Introductory Requirement	F
	GERO 1013	Introduction to Gerontol	ogy l
	GERO 1023	Introduction to Gerontol	ogy ll
2.	Required Core Courses GERO/PSYC 2673 GERO 2113/SOCI 2523 GERO 3023 GERO 4013 GERO 4023	Adult Development and Sociology of Aging Aging and Health Seminar in Gerontology Advanced Seminar in Ger
З.	Elective Courses
	GERO/PSYC 2643	Adult Psychopathology
	GERO/PSYC 2653	Psychopathology Over the Lifespan
	GERO/RS 2273	Death and Dying
	GERO 3033	Aging and Spirituality
	GERO 3043	Recreation, Leisure and Aging
	GERO 3053	GERO 3123	Counselling Older Adults

GERO 3733/SCWK 5733 Social Work and Aging

Note: Subject to the approval of the Program Director and the Registrar, other St. Thomas University or University of New Brunswick courses may be substituted for courses listed in the elective courses groups.

Certi cate in Social Work

The Certificate in Social Work program is designed for practitioners and counsellors with at least one year of experience in the field of social work. This program is made available by special offering only.

D. Graduate and Professional Preparation

Specific undergraduate course work is often required for admission to graduate and professional programs. St. Thomas students have the opportunity to include in their undergraduate programs not only the courses required for admission to the St. Thomas professional programs, but also those required for a broad range of graduate and professional programs offered by other Canadian universities. Examples of the professional programs for which St. Thomas students can qualify include:

- Architecture Business Management (MBA) Communications Disorders Counselling Dental hygiene Dentistry Education
- Journalism Law Law Enforcement Medicine Occupational Therapy Pharmacy Physiotherapy
- Psychiatry Public Relations Social Work Veterinary Medicine X-ray Technology

Admission to these programs is generally limited and competitive. High academic standing is required. A summary of the University courses generally required for admission to these professional programs can be obtained from the St. Thomas Admissions Office. Students should also consult current calendars for details regarding specific prerequisites and application deadlines at the graduate and professional schools to which they intend to apply.